A Message from the Grand Knight:

Dear Brothers,

November is a time to be thankful for the love and support of those dear to us. As the season of gratitude unfolds, we have the opportunity to express our appreciation for those who stand by us, celebrating the connections that make us stronger. In that spirit, let us not forget that celebrating our veterans during the month of November is essential for acknowledging the sacrifices and dedication of those who have served our country. This observance not only honors their bravery but also reinforces our commitment to supporting them as they reintegrate into civilian life. As members of the Knights of Columbus, Council 207, we hold a unique responsibility to honor these heroes by fostering a community of gratitude and respect. Through various initiatives and events, we can actively demonstrate our appreciation, ensuring that their contributions are never forgotten. By celebrating our veterans, we strengthen the bonds of brotherhood and charity that define our organization, reaffirming our mission to serve those who have selflessly defended our freedoms.
